THE ostensible reasons for Maj. WAR-NER's declination of the office of Pension Commissioner are to be made public by the President. There is no necessity for making public his actual reasons. The Major is too sly a political fox to be caught in the trap fixed by TANNER.

In demanding the retirement of Gen. is as fully impregnated with Tannerism as TANNER himself, and his decision placing deserters and dishonorably discharged soldiers on an equal basis as to pensions with honorable and gallant veterans is a disgrace to the country.

A REMARKABLE change of view with regard to the Ahearn-Jackson fight has taken place in the minds of the men connected with the mill. They assert now that they understood that the contest was not to be a prize-fight, but a sparring match for points. On the other hand, no account was taken of points, the men were held up to a knock-out and DAN Daly announced from the stage while the fight was in progress that it was to be fought to a finish. That a stake was up on the event is admitted by all. The facts are overwhelmingly against the principal and his aiders and abettors in the killing

THE POLICE AND THE LAW.

The original responsibility for the killing of young Jackson by ED AHEARN in the fight at the Daly place rests upon the police authorities, not on the patrolmen much as the Board of Police Commis sioners and the Chief.

The Chief's own statement that the so called fights described by the newspapers have not been worth prevention or investigation because they have been mere sparring exhibitions is a confession of gross ignorance of the law of the State There is a law on the statute book forbid ding sparring or boxing exhibitions, and rendering the principals, aiders and abettors, and proprietors of the places where they take place, liable to punishment for misdemeanor. The reports of the chairmen of the subwas of the most en-nature. In not a single instance did any committee have to report that the amount assigned to it could not be fraised, and in enearly every case i confidently asserted that a far r sum than that assigned larger sum than that assigned would be freely subscribed. As stated in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH, the Real Estate Committee, which had been at work but part of one day and had visited but fifteen real estate agents out of over eighty, had obtained the full amount, $75,000, allotted to this department. This is the largest subscription yet made, but the real estate men declare that within a few days it will be doubled. Each subscriber paid at once his assessment of I per cent to meet preliminary expenses. A report was received from a meeting of the bakers, which had been held simply for the purpose of organization, but at which $8,000 of the $10,000 allottek had been subscribed. larger

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

The committee intrusted with solicitation among the dealers in gentiemen's furnishing goods had not visited more than naif of the houses, but aiready had secured $17,000, the ailotment for ail being but $15,000. This amount will be nearly doubled. Other committees made partial reports, and it was estimated that fully half the required $5,000,000 was in sight, and all expressed their conviction that the financial question might be regarded as settled. All books are now in the hands of collectors and solicitation will be actively pushed forward. The assessment of 1 per cent is now due, and has been called by Treasurer J. C. Van Blarcom. Frank Foster and Gustavus Rosenberg were elected members of the Committee of Two Hundred, sind D. B. Gould was added to the Finance Committee.

APREPOSTEROUS STORY.

The Evening News publishes the following:
"Why, the story is not any good, supposing it were true." laughed Judge Longenecker, referring to the fairy tale of the letters from Gertie LeCaron, which are said to contain the true story of the murder of Dr. Cronin. "The letters are utterly lnadmissible as evidence," he continued, "and then if they were, does that explain away the guilt of the defendants here? If Coughlin secured the white horse to drive the doctor to his death, how does this story excuse him? Why should Burke, who hired the Carison cottage, escape? It is a preposterous story and utterly useless as a defense."

The Cronin jury quest was resumed this morning, but up to the close of the morning session no additional jurymen were secured.

a FATAL BITE.

Sarah Owens Nipped by a Snake While Picking Apples.

Sarah Owens, a colored woman, residing in East Carondelet, while out picking apples, yesterday afternoon near her house, was bitten on the left leg by a snake. Mrs. Owens ran home and had no sooner reached her door than she fell in a dead faint to the floor. Several of her neighbors ran to her rescue and were surprised to see the swollen condition of her leg. After spending some little time hunting for a physician Dr. Smizer was called in. The woman's life is despaired of. The snake is supposed to have been a moccasin.

and are part of an chinese nobleman who recently traveled through Europe and America.
When women go to court they regard bare skin as a mark of respect, and on ordinary coasions when they meet their parents they must apply their mouths to the right and left lips of the elder with a smacking sound, which is exceedingly strange.

Women consider a large bust and a small waist as desirable; but while the waist can be compressed so as to be made small, the bust cannot be naturally enlarged. A great number, then have a contrivance of wickerware made which is conceided under the bodies on either side of the cheet; and tais they consider an adornment.

Women who are shortsighted will mount spectacles in public; even young girls in their tenses will do the same, and so waik along the streets, and it is not regarded strange.

If a man does not smoke grow to a continue government when we have been a moccasin.

WITH THE HELP OF M'NICHOL.
The idle summer days are done.
The busy fail returns;
In place of noonday's ruddy sun
The toreh of autumn burns.
Again, with satchel and with books
The bovs and girls retire.
At night, with studious, hopeful looks,
Beside the home-like fire.
In gala dress the city stands
To welcome strangers, friends—
With open hearts and ready hands
Each one a cheer extends.
But what of those who also roam,
For whom no aliar rears?
They who again without a home
Watch all the glidling years?
No longer need this state exist,

One of the most interesting and novel experiments in this direction was made a few days ago with the instantaneous camera while a severe thunderstorm was raging. The storm center was over the lower bay and immediately east of Sandy Hook. Intermittent flashes lit up the sky, followed at longer intervals by a blinding biaze of light, so dazzling that when it expired the whole atmosphers seemed filled with a sulphurous blackness. The time was about 7 o'clock p. m.

Focussing the camera on the group of nime bus clouds that marked the storm center, the poperator waited his opportunity. It came if a moment. Banners of binish white streamed out from a common branch or center, extending all over the horizon and glittering, faintly here and brightly there, for probably two seconds.

who was selected to hold it against a forfelt. Who the buyers are is not known. The interested persons refuse to say, but the stock of the small holders has been bought up and sold to outside parties, and the large stocknolders have gone into a pool with them, so that the control is now in the hands of a few. The trouble has been that there were too many small stockholders, and the gould not be brought together on any question involving money, so the money for the recent improvements had to be raised on the personal notes of the officers. The price at which the stock sold is not known, but as $165 was refused by one holder, it was probably a larger figure than that.

THE PROTERTIES.

The Lindell Railway Co. owns and operates two lines of street-cars which are now run by holder power, but the Municipal Assembly has greated the company the privilege of adopting an electric motor and using the overhead system. One of the lines starts from the foot of Washington avenue, runs out to Grand, over to Delmar, west on Delmar to Vandeventer, north to Finney, east to Grand, south to Morgan, east to Compton, south to Washington and east to Compton south to Washington and east to Compton and poss wast to Fourteenth, south to Gratiot, west to Eighteenth, south to Chouteau avenue, west to Compton and back on the same route. The company, however, has a franchise to extend this line from Compton avenue to Forest Park, and the overhead wires are already in position.

This line is one of the oldest in the city, and until the introduction of the cable system it was one of the most profitable. But the building of the St. Louis Cable & Western took a good deal of its traffic away, because the Cable & Western and Washington avenue lines run through nearly the same territory and their terminare in the same neighborhoods, so the line which gave the quickest transportation naturally took the traffic. Then the Olive street line was cabled, and it is parallel to the Washington avenue line has not been doing more than pay expenses, if it

Since then the Washington avenue line has not been doing more than pay expenses, if it has done that, and the Chouteau avenue line has been making whatever profit the company has made, if it has made anything, but the owners were anxious to sell and they did not care to spend any money changing the motive power. They reserved the privilege of using electricity, then put the property and the privileges on the market, knowing that a syndicate could be organized to take the road and utilize the franchises. For two years they have been trying to sell and, as Judge Lightner said yesterday, two or three times they have thought the road virtually sold, but the negotiations have fallen through invariably before the money was paid, and not until now has a deal been actually consummated.

Inspector Burks Goes to Work November -Bridging the Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., September 19 .- The Board of Railroad Commissioners and Chief Grain Inspector Jasper Burks returned to Kansas City this morning and will leave to-night for for putting into operation the new grain in spection law on November 1. The opinion of Attorney-General Wood, rendered last evening, permanenty settles the question as to when the law goes into effect and no effort will be made to put the act in force before that date, but Col. Downing says there is still a great deal of preliminary work to be done so as to be ready to proceed promptly with the enforcement of the law when the time approaches. Including all the appointees required there will be about forty-seven, many of whom have not been agreed upon. Lee Hughes, the Chief Inspector at Kansas City, vice McMahon, who was forced to resign, is also a Saline County man, and is said to be a fine appointment, being like McMahon, a practical expert in grain inspection. Mr. Halmon of Nodaway County will have the supervision of the St. Joe office. He, too, is understood to be a practical grain man. Salaries for the assistants have not been fully adjusted, but it is intended to make them as liberal as the receipts from inspection and the labors of the force would reasonably suggest. On this account a sliding scale will probably be agreed upon.

The leading capitalists and business men of the city will have a meeting this afternoon to receive the report of Capt. M. T. the heir apparent, and gets an allowance of $75,000 a year, and all have enough and to spare. Still. In comparison with the fortunes squandered by the knedives of the pash, this is nothing, and the present Khedive does what any other monarch of the world would not think of doing. The last year was a poor one in Egypt, and the people were hardly able to pay their taxes. In order to relieve them somewhat the Khedive ordered that the salaries of all officers should be cut down for that year 10 per cent, and he set the example, I am told, by cutting that much off the allowance for his family and dropped off $50,000 from his personal allowance for the sake of his people. This does not seem the act of a Pharaoh. It is more that of a man and a Christian. It shows that this Mohammedan ruler is a King in heart and soul as well as in position, and may well lead us to wonder whether this land under him, if freed from debt and unshackled by shylocks would not rise to a higher and better civilization than it has ever had in the 6,000 years of its past.

stand. She was exhausted from the nervous strain and sauk into a chair.

Counselor Berry said he was too ill to continue the case and court adjourned. Mrs. Hamilton was led back to her quarters.

To-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The court did not open this morning for the continuation of the trial of Mrs. Eva Hamilton, for the atroclous assault upon Nurse Mary Donnelly, until 10:45 o'clock. The delay was caused by the detention through an accident to another train from Atlantic City upon which were the judges, attorneys and others officially connected with the case. When the jurors had taken their sents, Judge Read said: "Sheriff, bring in the defendant."

seats, Judge Read said: "Sheriff, bring in the defendant."

The Sheriff stated that the defendant, Mrs. Hamilton, begged to be excused from appearing on account of serious illness, and the Judge allowed the case to proceed. Capt. Perry, counsel for the defense, began his argument. He said he hoped that the jurors would frame their verdiet according to the testimony, independent of newspaper reports or other influences. He closely reviewed the circumstances which led up to the assault and argued that the testimony showed clearly that Mary Ann Donnelly, the nurse, was the first aggressor, and that up to the assault and argued that the testimony showed clearly that Mary Ann Donnelly, the nurse, was the first aggressor, and that she forced Mrs. Hamilton to pick up the knife in self-defense. She had threatened to kill her mistress. She was hot tempered and frenzid with brandy and she assalled Mrs. Hamilton with murderous intent.

"Was Mrs. Hamilton justified in striking in self-defense? Is there anyone in this room placed as Mrs Hamilton was on the bed in the desperate clutches of the drunken nurse who would not take a similar opportunity to protect their life? Gentlemen of the jury, consider well the facts in the case and give my poor, forsaken client the full benefit of the aggravated circumstances which compelled her to commit the act for which she is held."

It was now Prosecutor Thompson's turn, and he at once proceeded to dissect the testimony from the State's standpoint. Fe dwelt upon the proposed separation between Hamilton and his wife and on the proposed money consideration of $5,000 or $5,000. How she demanded more and had placed a price on her marriage relations.

He said that both Hamilton and his wife had repeatedly contradicted themselves while on the witness stand and that their testimony was a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end; that Mr. Hamilton's life would probably have been taken were it not for the timely entrance of Nurse Donnelly and that Mrs. Hamilton was a forturate woman in not being here to-day to answer a charge of murder instead of atrocious assault, and closed by urging the jury to find her guilty of the latter offense.

Judge Reed then adjourned the court until 1:45, when he will charge the jury.

It was nearly 2 o'clock when the court re-

THE LOST YACHT LEO.

INDICATIONS THAT THE PLEASURE CRAFT WAS BLOWN UP.

robable Cause of the Fatal Explosion Bodies Recovered-The Wreck at Leon, Kan. - Three Children Burned to Death-Died in Great Agony-Killed at a Cross-left Lorain, twenty-eight miles west of here, for this port last Sunday afternoon, was blown up about 3 o'clock Monday morning. Three bodies have been recovered, and sev eral hundred men and boys are hunting for the other six. This morning the body of vate breakwater a few miles West of this city. The body was almost nude, and what clothing remained was burned. Pelow's face was burned and bruised, and his watch had stopped at 3:13. Watches on the other two bodies had also stopped at about that hour. There were forty gallons of naphtha in the hold of the Leo which was to be used as fuel. It is believed that it exploded Monday morning just when the storm was at its height. The lake is very wild yet and the search for the remaining bodies is attended with considerable danger.

A GROUNDLESS SCARE. A two-masted yacht, containing ten business men, also left Lorain last Saturday bound for Put-in-Bay on a fishing trip. The excite-ment at Lorain was intensified this morning by the report that that yacht had gone down, too. The rumor, however, was all hands are well.

The 'Frisco Wreck at Leon.

WICHITA, Kan., September 19 .- The east train was derailed near Leon, Butler County, yesterday by the spreading of the rails. Three passenger coaches left the track while the train was going thirty miles an hour and rolled down a fiteen-toot embankment. The coaches were not well filled and thus the loss of life was not so great as it otherwise would have been. R. M. Beemis was instantly killed, being thrown through the roof of the car. Isaac Dean of this city was fatally injured, having his breast crushed in by a car timber. Mrs. Matzka, also of this city, was fatally crushed by the weight of a car. Mrs. John Mitchel of Fort Smith, Ark., had one arm and one leg broken; Mrs. R. A. Hodges of Arkansas city had an arm and several ribs broken and may die; E. L. Lathrop of Kansas City had his right leg broken in two places and received internal injuries. About ten more were slightly injured. train was derailed near Leon, Butler County.

nstantly killed last night at the Bel avenue crossing of the Northwestern, in Gross Park. They were driving west in a sulky, and for some reason failed to see the southbound passenger train, which was going over twenty-five miles an hour. Their horse was squarely on the track when the train struck them. The horse was instantly killed, the sulky smashed, and the bodies of the men hurled at least one hundred feet from the crossing. One of the men killed was Frank Haussen of Avondale; the other was unknown.

his white beaver hat of California, says Black and Blue, that he will sell his horses.
Mr. McCarthy is a victim of unkind fate. That uncertain elemen known as "race-track luck" has dealt the small but hardy Cali-fornian some vicious slaps of late. The wealth which Mr. Mc-

Carthy and his son brought with them from the golden coast has gone on its fugitive way, and there is little in reason left to do but to sell the horses.

In all truth, Mr. McCarthy is like many other men upon the turf. He is one of that class, who, by training and temperament, are not fitted to own a race horse. He does not poned to day, this time until Saturday. know how to use a speedy and game animal when he has one, and when he, by inck or skill, gets his horse in condition he places will visit it to-morrow. Ernest Mueller, who plays the small drum and several other instruments in Gilmore's Band, was once honored in a manner that resulted in a curious habit. People who meet him notice that he nover gives them his right hand when they meet, always his left. The Wanderers of Chicago intend to contest the Sachs stand of colors won by the Unions of Cuicago at the recent meeting here. The Wanderers claim that Otto Hassel, who entered the three-mile walk as a member of the Chicago Athletic Club and won it, is a member of the Wanderers. This would give the latter club five additional points, which would win them the colors. There is also to be a contest of this walk as the judge of walking awarded it to Clingen of the Unions and rolled Hassel out for fooling him, but the referee gave the walk to Hassel nevertheless.
